

New Sun Life Pharma News helps keep you on top of trends and changes

Sun Life's pharmaceutical group benefits team has recently launched the Sun Life Pharma News bulletin. This tri-annual bulletin shares the latest trends and changes to the pharmaceutical industry, as well as insights from the team.

This first issue includes an opening editorial by the directors of our pharmaceutical benefits team – Atul Goela and JM Lavoie – as well as an educational corner by Julie Blouin, our Senior Clinical Pharmacy Consultant who holds a Ph.D. in Pharmacoeconomics. The next issue is expected to be available in late August of this year, and will continue to report on new drugs coming to the market and what they mean for drug plans and the employers who provide drug coverage for employees.

You can read the first issue of Pharma News here.

Questions?

Contact your Sun Life Financial group benefits representative.