

New resources available for fraud awareness and prevention

Fraud management is a key component of plan sustainability, which is why Sun Life's fraud team is actively engaged in detecting, investigating and preventing fraud against group benefit plans. Taking a comprehensive, industry-leading and innovative approach, the fraud management team helps to protect your plan from potential risk and helps to manage your premium costs from the damaging effects of fraud and abuse. Read on to learn about two new resources available for download.

Special report: The fight against benefits fraud – the power of delisting

Sun Life has a rigorous delisting program to manage risk and help prevent group benefits fraud. Read the report to learn how our delisting program serves as a distinct advantage over our competitors. Click here for the downloadable PDF!

The fall issue of the F Files, our semi-annual newsletter, is now available!

Get the latest trends and educational material in the realm of group benefits fraud. Included in this issue is a case study highlighting a dental provider and an article about how we can use the concept of deterrence to stop fraud before it happens. We encourage you to share this newsletter with plan members too – click here for the downloadable PDF!

Also, make sure to check out our Fraud Management website to learn more about group benefits fraud and the fascinating work our fraud risk management team is doing to keep our plans affordable for everyone. Click here to visit the site.
