Premium payment and renewal flexibility

We're living through the greatest social, economic and health challenge in generations. We know that many organizations are facing financial challenges. We want to help you, your business and your employees. Employee health has never been more critical. We want to help you maintain your group benefits protection for your employees.

- Flexibility on premium payments. We want to support you in these difficult times. We know you may face challenges in paying your premiums on time. In such a case, please contact your Account Executive to discuss extended payment terms.
- Renewals. If you have concerns about upcoming renewals you and your advisor can contact your Account Executive. We'll work together to address them.

You can stay up-to-date on all the measures we're taking by visiting our COVID-19 website – sunlife.ca/sponsorcovid19.
