“Our Disability Manager consistently provides us with exceptional customer service and has a wealth of knowledge of our plan’s history, contract provisions...”

Case in brief: Client in the mining industry

A plan sponsor in the mining industry, with several sites, was experiencing challenges with payment calculations, claim decisions and the interplay of funding arrangements in an insured plan design. Sun Life was asked to look at the overall approach.

Through site visits and meetings, it became clear that each individual site operated within a unique environment. Community and union presences led to noticeably different cultures, and different union relationships resulted in different collective bargaining agreements and, therefore, subtle differences in policy provisions.

Throughout the year Sun Life engaged in frequent conversations with the stakeholders within each individual site. The result was precision in plan administration. Sun Life identified that additional staff were needed to meet the unique service requirements for this plan sponsor and was able to successfully onboard several Case Managers to the group. For this plan sponsor, service excellence meant seeing them for what they are, a collection of communities each with their own needs.

“Today, I have one of my strongest client relationships with the site leaders”

- Thorough assessment

- Comprehensive analysis of all information about the absence, including information gathered through telephone interviews with you and the employee.
- Engagement of the employee with a focus on their functional abilities, not only to ensure optimal treatment is in place, but to understand how other factors may be influencing their recovery (e.g., perceptions regarding recovery, workplace, family and/or financial issues).
- Establishing expectations for recovery, keeping the discussion with the employee and their physician focused on return-to-work goals and providing you with the information you need to identify accommodated work opportunities and to inform return-to-work planning.
- Involvement of the right resources when in-depth rehabilitation, treatment and/or other interventions are needed.
- Negotiating return-to-work plans that focus on aligning the employee's functional abilities with your business needs.
- Predictive modeling that confirms our approach to achieve optimal outcomes for both the employee and you.

- Financial accuracy is the focus of our Administration, Eligibility and Payment Specialist team. One of the largest in the industry, this team is focused on quality and operational efficiency.

- Effective communication with you

- Prompt initial communication with you and the plan member once the claim decision is confirmed through the CDQA.
- Proactive communication on adjustments by informing the employee in advance of possible adjustments to their benefits and explaining the calculation.
- In-person claim review meetings at the frequency that provides the right value to you. We work with you to establish a plan for such meetings, including frequency, format, meeting goals and expected outcomes.
- Reporting and updates that highlight key milestones and decision points.

“We wanted to thank Sun Life for making changes to reduce the portfolio size of your Case Managers. This gives them additional time to provide excellent case management services for the increased number of mental health claims, which, at times, can be very problematic to adjudicate, as there may be performance issues mixed in with medical issues.”

.... Plan sponsor, Municipal Government industry

“We championed the business case to fund modification of a Plan Member’s van to assist with his return- to -work plan. Over 10 years later, he still has the van we invested in and has not been off work again after getting it. This is a welcome reminder of the reason why I do the work I do every day.”
